doctor would have us believe?

To add further to the doctors letter, I believe health issues should be given a good run, not just at the federal election, but also at the next state election.

That way, Queenslanders can get some idea how all that GST revenue coming into state government coffers has, is, or will be spent.

town and surely it must be impacting on a child's education (if in fact they go to school).

I don't know the answers, but surely some responsibility rests with the parents.

Where are the parents?

I WONDER how many parents know what their children get up to after dark?

You could say Bundaberg has the same problems as any regional centre in Australia, but do these centres have youths running around at all hours of the night?

It is a sad state when parents have no control over their children. A lot of this is due to "political correctness" and the fact children can go running to government departments if they think they are not getting a fair deal (ie. have to be home by 10pm).

These departments then give the kids a free passage to go out and enjoy themselves at the expense of the taxpayer and the expense of the town or city.

It is not a good image for our
